BURDENED WOMEN.

We look in amazement at the burdens some women carry upon their heads. Yet how light they are compared with the burdens some women carry upon their hearts. There are childless women whose hearts ache ceaselessly because of the childless home. That burden of childlessness has been lifted from the heart of many a woman by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Many of the obstacles to maternity are removable. Such obstacles are entirely removed by "Favorite Prescription." It contains no alcohol nor narcotic.

Married Six Years and Childless.
"I have never written you how grateful I am to you for your help in securing good health and one of the sweetest, dearest children I could ever have. I have written you how grateful I am to you for your help in securing good health and one of the sweetest, dearest children I could ever have. I have written you how grateful I am to you for your help in securing good health and one of the sweetest, dearest children I could ever have."

1800.
No nominations.
This was the year in which Thomas Jefferson was elected. The Democratic party of to-day claims lineal descent from the first Republican party and President Jefferson as its founder.

1804.
Democratic (Republican) congressional caucus, Washington, Feb. 25.
Previous to 1804, each elector voted for two candidates for President. The one who received the largest number of votes was declared President, and the one who received the next largest number of votes was declared Vice-President.

1824.
Nominations by congressional caucus, state legislatures and local mass meetings.
This was the year in which John Quincy Adams was elected. Political parties were disorganized at the time of the election of Mr. Adams. He claimed to be a Republican, but his doctrines were decidedly Federalistic. The opposition to his administration took the name of Democrats and elected Jackson President four years later.

Dr. C. H. Todd Assigns.
Dr. C. H. Todd, of Owensboro, filed a deed of assignment last week. There was no schedule of assets and liabilities, but his debts aggregate $74,000 and his assets $52,000. As trustee of the Harriet T. Johnson estate he owes $33,250; to Louisville banks, $20,000; and to Owensboro banks, $21,000. The Louisville banks are secured by Owensboro city bonds issued for capital stock in the Owensboro, Falls of Rough and Green River railroad, as follows: Louisville Trust Company, twenty-four bonds of $500 each to secure $12,500; American National Bank, twenty bonds of $500 each to secure $10,000; Citizens National Bank, twenty bonds of $500 each to secure $10,000. By reason of his placing these bonds as collateral he becomes indebted to the Johnson estate $33,250. He owes $20,000 to the following Louisville banks with Louisville notes as notes: Bank of Kentucky, Louisville National Bank Company, Dr. H. C. Hickman, J. T. Griffith and J. H. Watkins are the principal sureties on the $21,000 due the Owensboro banks. Dr. Hickman and J. Hunter Bell are sureties to the Johnson estate for $33,250.

The assets consist of residence property valued at $7,500; over 1,000 acres of land at $25,000; personal assets, $19,500. Most of the land is in the Panther creek bottoms of Daviess county.

Dr. Todd's financial embarrassment is said to be mainly due to land speculation. He lost about $20,000 in the Southern Heights Land Company, of Louisville, several years ago. He bought the Panther Creek land principally on credit ten years ago, and failing to realize on it, interest has piled up heavily on him.

A Fair Trial for Taylor.
(Albany Argus.)
As for the charge that Taylor would not have a fair trial, in no State in the Union has a defendant accused of murder a better chance of acquittal. Shooting a man is not apt to be regarded as a heinous offense in Kentucky, if there was heat, or provocation, or a "feud." But the fact that Goebel was shot in cold blood would be likely to cause a fair trial, without sentimentality or gush, and a fair trial is apparently the one thing above all others that William S. Taylor desires. Judge Cantrell's remark, as to the impossibility of a fair trial in Frankfort, was uttered during the presence there of Taylor's soldiery, and had distinct reference to the lawlessness then prevalent. It does not apply now.

A FEW POSERS.

Propounded to Mr. Yerkes in His Race for Governor.

CAN HE AFFORD TO ANSWER THEM?

The Interior Journal presents its compliments to Hon. John W. Yerkes and propounds him the following questions about his race for the Republican nomination for Governor:

1. If you are elected Governor, will you before the trial of any of the persons now indicted for being accessory to the murder of Gov. Goebel, pardon any of them?

2. If they are convicted after trial, will you then pardon any of them?

3. If Taylor and Finley are still fugitives, will you issue a requisition for their apprehension?

4. Do you approve the conduct of Gov. Mount, of Indiana, in refusing to honor the requisition of Gov. Beckham for the arrest of Taylor and Finley?

5. Have you ever, in public or private conversation, condemned the assassination of Goebel except upon the ground that it might injure the Republican party?

6. Were you present at the secret Galt House conversation of Republicans in Louisville on the night following the Colson-Scott tragedy in Frankfort?

7. If you answer yes to the last question, as you undoubtedly must answer, then will you be further asked if you advised or approved a proposition to bring the mountain feudists to Frankfort to murder or overawe Goebel or the Legislature?

8. If you answer you did not, then will you be asked why you did not, as a dear lover of "civil liberty,"—that same sweet "civil liberty" your platform and stump orators prate so much about—why you did not, as a lover of liberty and law, expose this damnable plot?

9. Do you approve the act of Taylor in refusing to allow the civil authorities to search the Executive building for the murderers of Goebel?

10. Do you approve Taylor's act in driving the members of the Legislature from the State house with his soldiers?

11. Do you approve his act in driving the Legislature at the point of the bayonet from the court house and other public places in Frankfort, when it endeavored to assemble?

12. Do you approve his act in ordering his soldiers to chase the members of the Legislature through the streets of Frankfort?

13. Do you approve his act in quartering soldiers and armed bodies of mountaineers in the public buildings at Frankfort with orders to them to allow no one access to them without a pass from him or his adjutant general?

14. Do you approve his act in driving the judges of the court of appeals from Frankfort by converting the State capital into military barracks?

15. Do you approve his act in refusing to obey the writ of habeas corpus?

16. Do you approve his conduct now in Indiana, a fugitive from justice?

17. Do you believe he meant to lie or to tell the truth when he publicly stated that if indicted he would never become a fugitive from justice, but would return to Kentucky and stand his trial?

18. Do you think he ought to return to Kentucky now to stand his trial?

19. If you are elected Governor, will you obey the Constitution and laws of the State?

20. Do you believe the Constitution of the United States is the supreme law of the land?

21. Do you believe that the following is a correct quotation of Sub-section 2, Article IV, Constitution of the U. S.: "Any person charged in any State with treason, felony or other crimes, who shall flee from justice and be found in another State, shall, on demand of the Executive authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the State having jurisdiction of the crime?"

22. If this be a correct quotation, why did you as a member of the recent

What a Little Faith Did
FOR MRS. ROCKWELL.

(LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 69,584.)
"I was a great sufferer from female weakness and had no strength. It was impossible for me to attend to my household duties. I had tried everything and many doctors, but found no relief."

"My sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and which I did before using all of one bottle. I feel better. I help it on with it and to my great surprise I am cured. All who suffer from female complaints should give it a trial."—MRS. ROCKWELL, 1209 S. DIVISION ST., GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.

From a Grateful Newark Woman.
"When I wrote to you I was very sick, had not been well for two years. The doctors did not seem to help me, and one said I could not live three months. I had womb trouble, falling, ulcers, kidney and bladder trouble. There seemed to be such a drawing and burning pain in my bowels that I could not rest anywhere. After using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash, and following your advice, I feel well again and stronger than ever. My bowels feel as if they had been moved over new. With many thanks for your help, I remain, L. G. 74 ANN ST., NEWARK, N. J."

The Vote of 1896.

As speculation has already begun as to what States carried by McKinley in 1896 will be carried this year by Bryan, and vice versa, and as there is much eager inquiry as to how some States voted, here give the electoral vote of the various States:

States. Bryan. McKinley.
Alabama..... 11
Arkansas..... 8
California..... 9
Colorado..... 8
Connecticut..... 7
Delaware..... 3
Florida..... 9
Georgia..... 13

Wyoming..... 3

Total..... 176
Entire electoral vote..... 447
Necessary to a choice..... 224
Some of these States were carried by a very narrow margin. Kentucky gave McKinley only 281 plurality, and in the case of one elector none at all. In California, whose vote was also divided, the successful Republican electors are credited with 2,797 plurality. South Dakota gave Bryan only 183 plurality, and Wyoming only 93. In the last named State, however, the total vote was so small that the plurality is larger than it appears.

On the other hand, some of the plunders were phenomenal. Colorado, with only four electoral voters, gave Bryan a plurality of 134,882. Texas gave him 202,914 plurality. McKinley carried New York by 268,469, and Pennsylvania by 295,072.

A Terrible Accident.
The Georgetown Times says: A terrible accident occurred Wednesday on the farm of Mr. Joseph Evans, by which Tim Sheehan, of Newton, was fatally injured by the premature explosion of dynamite. Mr. Evans was drilling a well and had gone down 145 or 150 feet and had not struck water. It was determined to set off a blast, and Sheehan was engaged in the work. He let down into the hole forty-five feet sixteen sticks of dynamite with a twelve-inch fuse tied to the end of a string. The end of this string above ground was tied to a heavy stick an inch and a half in diameter and two feet long. Over the hole was a heavy board held down by an anvil. The explosion did not occur at the time Sheehan thought it ought, and believing it to be out, he went and picked up the stick to draw out the charge, when the dynamite exploded. The unfortunate man was blown in the air some distance and the stick he held in his hand was driven into his brain an inch and a half. As he fell, the back of his head hit a board and cut a gash several inches long. When picked up he still held the end of the stick in his hand and his brains oozed from the horrible wound in his forehead. The board over the hole was blown out of sight and the anvil sixty feet. It would be almost a miracle should the man recover.

We are no stronger morally or physically than our weakest point. Ninety-nine in every one hundred cases of physical weakness is due to some over-taxation, inactivity or disease of the Brain, Heart or Nerves. Walker's Tonic will build up that weak point and put your whole system in a condition of physical rectitude.

Sam Jones on Newspapers.
Speaking of newspapers, Sam Jones says: "If I wanted to get a right square judgment, I'd rather go to a newspaper office than to a court of justice. No man whose life is true, pure and just is afraid of all the newspaper presses in America. They are the best detective force of the country to-day. They have a certain nose, ulcer, or inflammation appearing on the skin. Every blood disease sooner or later on the outside and on the weakest part of the body, or where it finds the least resistance. Many mistake the sore or outward sign for the real disease, and attempt a cure by the use of salves, liniments and other external applications. Valuable time is lost and no permanent benefit derived from such treatment."

BLOOD TROUBLES REQUIRE BLOOD REMEDIES.
The poison must be completely and permanently eradicated—the blood reinforced, purified and cleansed, or the disease goes deeper and saps the very life. Mercury, potash and arsenic, the treatment usually prescribed in this class of diseases, are violent poisons, even when taken in small doses—never cure, but do much harm by adding another poison to the already overburdened, diseased blood.

S. S. S., Nature's own remedy, made of roots and herbs, attacks the disease in the blood, antitoxins and forces out all impurities, makes weak, thin blood rich, strong and healthy, and at the same time builds up the general health. S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the only one that can reach deep-seated blood troubles. A record of 50 years of successful cures proves it to be a reliable, unfailing specific for all blood and skin troubles.

Free Medical Treatment.—Our Medical Department is in charge of skilled physicians, who have made blood and skin diseases a life study, so if you have Contagious Blood Poison, Cancer, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Eczema, an Old Sore or Ulcer, or any similar blood trouble, write them fully for advice about your case. All correspondence is conducted in strictest confidence. We make no charge for this service. Book on blood and skin diseases free.

Saves nine. Hughes' Tonic never improved, taste pleasant, taken in early Spring and Fall, prevents Chills, Dengue and Malaria Fevers. Acts on the liver, tones up the system. Better than Quinine. Guaranteed, try it. At Druggists, 5c and 10c bottles.

Two Grooms and Only One Bride.
The Louisville Times says: Miss Elsie Bailey, of Elizabethtown, found herself in Jeffersonville last night with two men anxious to marry her. This proved to be much of a good thing, each interfering with the other, and while she would have taken either, she went untried for the time being. It is a peculiar story.

The aspirants for her hand are Eugene Cozine and Joseph O'Bryan, also of Elizabethtown. Cozine was opposed by the girl's sister, who favored O'Bryan. But the girl herself favored "Cozine." Miss Bailey lived with the family of Judge Robt. Wintermuth, her parents being dead. To outwit the sister, Cozine had his sweetheart to secure the appointment of Dr. Waddy as her guardian in order that he might consent to the marriage, but O'Bryan got influence to bear on both the sister and his inamorata, and the scheme was checked. Cozine's jealousy was aroused and quarrels followed. Then the girl attempted suicide with morphine. Cozine said she was only poisoning to hurry up the marriage. She retaliated with "sour grapes." However, they made it up, and Cozine prevailed on the girl yesterday to elope with him. O'Bryan in some way was "wise" on the move and when the elopers boarded the train they found him a traveling companion. He asked them that, but was friendly to their project and would assist them. Reaching Jeffersonville, Cozine and the girl repaired to "Squire Nixon's" matrimonial parlors, while O'Bryan and Jas. Keigwin went after the license. O'Bryan

RUNNING FIGHT.

Awful Experience of Foreigners Fleeing from the Boxers.

HEART-BREAKING FLIGHT FOR LIFE.

A special to the Chicago Tribune from Victoria, B. C., says:
Advice received by the Empress of India gave graphic details of the escape from Peking and Tien Tsin of foreigners. Of all the fugitives to reach the coast, none had a harder fight for their lives than the Americans. French and Belgian engineers were surrounded by the Boxers at Pong Tai, the terminus of the railway that was to run to Han Kow.

When the Boxers attacked the station and the machine shops, the engineers barricaded themselves in the machine shops and held the Chinese off for some time. They had several women with them—wives of some of them. These women loaded the men's rifle belts, and otherwise assisted to repel the Boxers. Soon the foreigners found their position untenable, as some of the Chinese had rushed the shops and set fire to a part of the building. They ran for it, fighting their way through the Boxers. When they had got through the Boxers' lines, the Chinese gave no more attention to them, but instead began to pillage and destroy the station and machine shops. Two of the Belgians then hurried to Peking, where they reported the danger of the party and called for volunteers to help them.

A number of Cossacks were dispatched to the rescue.

They set out on June 2 and encountered a large crowd of Boxers forty miles from Tien Tsin and were obliged to retreat, being unable to fight their way through the Boxers. The Cossacks, who numbered thirty-three, had two officers wounded.

In the meantime there were thirty engineers who had taken up a position on a small hill and there made a fight. Eight men were left in the trenches to hold back the Boxers, while the other twenty-two, including the women and children, went on toward Peking.

They had no carts and the men carried the weaker ones, when they became exhausted. The march of the fugitives to Peking was an awful one. When some few miles from where they were entrenched, they found another party of Boxers, not so strong as the party before encountered, to their front, and the men formed a hollow square with the women and children in the center, and repelled the onslaughts of the Boxers. They made their way to Peking after two days of terror.

The Boxers of this party were without firearms, being armed only with poles headed with iron and knives and spears. They were kept at a distance by the rifles and revolvers of the railway men, who killed a number of them.

The eight heroes who were left behind to guard the retreat were slain by the Boxers. There were three Frenchmen and one Italian among them, the others being Belgian and Swiss. The fugitives on their arrival at Peking were in a terribly destitute condition.

American marines led the way of the relief party to Peking. Despite the vicissitudes of the Boxers, the relief party was able to pass Tientsin, forty United States marines landed and made their way up the river by lighter.
